The arena and other barns at times may have sawdust, wood shavings, or a dirt floor depending on what other activities are being held in the facilities. Other animals use these facilities throughout the year. Other members' dogs may be given treats or food that contain common allergens while at training unless otherwise instructed. It is very important that we know of any allergies or special conditions that your child might have prior to the beginning of dog training.

Allergies to food, medications, environment, etc. (please specify):

Any other health concerns we should be aware of?:

Any accommodations we could make to support the member's learning?

Dane County 4-H Dog Project Member Form

This page is to be completed independently by the member.

Member name: _____

What are 2 goals you have this year in the 4-H Dog Project?

What can we do to support you in learning and achieving these goals? Think about challenges you have experienced in other learning environments and what could have helped you feel more successful.

In our county's Dog Project, we work hard to be kind to our dogs, both at training and in life. If we are kind, our dogs learn faster. What are 2 ways you can be kind to your dog while you are teaching them something new?

What is your favorite thing to do with your dog or with dogs in general?

Expectations

As a 4-H member, you are expected to adhere to the behavior expectations that you have signed when you turned in your enrollment forms. Other expectations:

- Remember it is a privilege to be a 4-H member!
- No abuse or neglect of an animal.
- No willful disrespect for others, use of profane language or behavior unbecoming to a Dane County 4-H member.
- Have respect for your group trainer and the personal and training space of others participating in your obedience class.
- Respect others, the building and facilities when coming and going from the Alliant Energy Center.
- Damage to any public or private property beyond its normal use is at the expense of the member.
- If your dog is determined at any time by the Committee Members or Instructors to be uncontrollable, vicious, or unmanageable in or out of a group setting, the dog will be excused from the training program.
- Clean up after yourself and your dog
